We're an architecture studio designing modern workplaces where teams can thrive.

We see architecture as more than a building or workspace. It captures the spirit of its surroundings while asserting your unique brand identity. It creates a sense of belonging. It increases productivity. Architecture has a meaningful presence, enriching your community.

At least it does when we're involved.

Toby Walker AIA, NCARB, LEED AP President

Biography

Toby is a highly motivated and creative architect with a passion for crafting award winning architecture and design. His work has been recognized on local and national levels for Design Excellence. The design pedagogy evident in Toby's work evolved from his education at the University of Florida and through his studies and travel abroad. In his words "the essence of good design is discovered in the details". Through these details, each project evolves in its own unique way, responding to the people, function, and context to which they belong.

Katherine Conner AIA, NCARB, LEED AP BD-C Principal

Biography

With her initial training as an Interior Designer, Katherine holds a unique perspective among her Architect colleagues. Understanding space at the human scale prior to studying buildings within site and city contexts has influenced her personal design outlook. Katherine has a fundamental belief that spaces can change our comfort and emotional well-being. It is this experiential and transformative nature of architecture that sustains her passion.
